

HOOSIER HOME RANGE HUNDRED MATCH SERIES

The Hoosier Home Range Hundred was a series of matches that were the brainstorm of Larry Beardsley and Mark Richard of Ft. Wayne R&R Club. These matches were fired at local Indiana clubs, with the intent of more generating more participation with less travel. A total of 5 ranges hosted these 100 yard matches between August and the end of September. Each match was an 80 round RMC fired on reduced targets at 100 yards. Awards were varied, from individual to team and club awards. Below is a summary of the award winners. There were significant cash awards for all winners, thanks to 3 local Indiana sponsors, Maples Road Instrument Services, Silver Mountain Targets USA, and an anonymous Association of Marksmen, National Guard Hall of Fame Member
